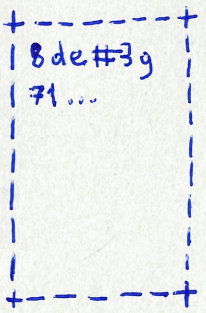
KMCS was the smallest of the first tier airports

It had a small Christian installation ('place of quiet') and served premium [redacted] tea.

KMCSS was bottom. Warhol reproduction...

[redacted]
Ticket for the helipads looked like art



The tickets had instructions in Japanese, Korean and Chinese

KMCS was another helipad built on top of the [redacted] consulting firm (Hong Kong / London)

KMCSS was a radio station (ZZ Top etc.)